

Floods, Droughts, and Water Security: How Is Water Data Critical to Climate Resilience?

Wednesday, May 22, 2024
9:00AM - 10:15AM, GMT -4

TODAY'S Agenda

Welcome and opening remarks

Panel discussion

Audience Questions and Answers

Wrap up

Pete Epanchin

Senior Climate Adaptation and Resilience Advisor

USAID Bureau for Resilience,
Environment and Food Security

USAID
FROM THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

SERVIR is a NASA and USAID partnership with leading geospatial organizations in Asia, Africa, and Latin America.

SERVIR works with countries and organizations to strengthen climate adaptation and mitigation across sectors, from food security, water security and water related disasters, forest and carbon management, and air quality and health.

Chinmay Deval

Water Security Thematic Lead
SERVIR Science Coordination Office

Meet the Panelists

Dr. Jamilatou Chaibou
Begou
Water Security Lead |
SERVIR West Africa

Angelica Gutierrez
Lead Scientist | NOAA

Chinaporn Meechaiya
Vulnerability & Impact
Lead | SERVIR Southeast
Asia, ADPC

Jim Nelson
SERVIR Applied Sciences
Team & Professor |
Brigham Young University

Panel Discussion and Q&A

Please use the Q&A feature to submit questions for our panelists

Thank You

Please use the Q&A feature to submit questions for our speakers resilience

links